

Letter Pressed

Text-touched home goods in newsprint colors turn font into fancy

1 The type-making geniuses at Delaware's House Industries print their Neutraface Slab font on throw pillows. $45-$55. 302-234-2356, houseind.com.

2 We've never known a birthday girl (or boy) to turn down cookies spelling out her name. $26 per set; $1 per letter. Sur La Table, Promenade at Sagemore, 500 Route 73 South, Marlton, 856-797-0098, surlatable.com.

3 Blocky, chic and totally custom, these subway-inspired signs are the ingenious design of local stylistas Anne Flynn and Kathy Cochet. $225 for small, $450 for large (shown), plus shipping. (Available with glass or Plexi.) 856-428-9991, 9avalon.com.

4 We've forever adored their invitations and business cards. Now the letterpress ladies behind Two Paper Dolls are doing upholstery fabric, too. Fabric from $38 per yard; $1,200 for the chair pictured below. 55 West Avenue, Wayne, 610-293-4933, twopaperdolls.com.

5 The official motto of nesters the world over—printed on vintage hankies by Philadelphia-based Bird & Banner. $20. Birdandbanner.com.
